IMPORTANT TO SAW MILL OWNERS.

THE subscribers having made arrangements to manufacture and sell Howard K. & W. H. Mayo's Machines, on which a patent has been applied for, invented for the purpose of cutting up and destroying edgings, made in saw mills and lath Machines, would recommend them to mill owners and operators, as a "great labor saving Machine," for keeping mills clear of edgings and waste stuff, and also to prevent their being thrown into the rivers and streams which now cause so much trouble, loss and expense, by filling up the channels, making back water and filling and breaking booms &c.

These Machines need only to be seen in operation, to satisfy all interested in lumbering operations of their great importance and utility to their interest.

These Machines are simple in their construction and operation and durable, and not liable to get out of order.

They beg leave to refer to the annexed certificates as to the value of these Machines to those engaged in the manufacture of lumber.

HINCKLEY & EGERY.

THE subscribers having purchased, and had in operation at their Saw Mill at the City Mills, one of the Messrs. Mayo's Machines for cutting up and destroying Edgings, have found them to answer all the purposes for which they were intended, and can recommend them as a great labor saving Machine, and one of the most important improvements required in the manufacture of lumber.

Whig and Courier.

John S. Sayward, Editor.

THURSDAY, APRIL 15, 1852.

☞ The Democratic Review makes the fur fly among the aspirants for the presidency, and as it has a dozen to kill off, in order to bring one man forward, and but little time to accomplish this, it makes violent efforts to be smart. The review claims to be the leader of the young and vigorous democracy, and to travel rough shod over all the old stagers of the party and to trundle them overboard in bunches like strings of onions. Cass, Buchanan, Boyd, Butler, Wool &c. are already kicked out and dispersed of, in the dashing, bluff, and dare-devil style of the young and vigorous.

In order to justify its present course, it thus speaks of its past history, and gives a view in the following style:

In the time, and under the management spoken of by Mr Breckenridge as different from the present, the Democratic Review was not only a mere partisan sheet, but the most determined and incorrigible of partisan sheets. It was the partisan of any who pleased to employ it, for the time being. So be sure it may be contended that it was not steadfast for two issues together, even in its policy, for with distinguished impartiality, it changed its partisanship every month, according to the portraiture of each successive individual who may have been so egotistical as to desire the immortality in its columns of being depicted in full face, as a quack Politician, or Moffat-pill and Townsend sarsaparilla statesman. These pill and sarsaparilla statesmen, principally of the old fogey class, * * * these pill and sarsaparilla statesmen, we say, mere advertisers of quack medicines, viz., their own personal and political virtues and claims upon the democratic party, ready owned that Democratic Review in the days so much admired by Mr. Breckenridge.

* * * * * * *

It would be as afflicting to the reader, to detail the facial contortions of the venerable fogies as each came before their obligingly universal artist, as the struggle to put the best face on their effrontery was painful to the Venetable sufferers. Some old gentlemen set to hours contorting, and pursing their lips, sorts to look implacably stern, awfully democratic, and powerfully Jacksonian. Others stiffened up and threw back some few hairs, so, as to appear of a statesmanlike character, on their baldness, resembling even longo inter vallo, the noble Cadmus. Another distinguished Democrat, more sagacious and withal adventurous, discovering a steel plate copied from the English one of the late Sir Robert Peel, of which the body had been finished but the face merely touched in outline, and conceiving that the attitude given by the artist to the great British Tory would be exceedingly dignified for an American Democrat, and would do with all, becoming to himself, actually purchased the plate, procured the body, had poor Sir Robert's head put on it and had Albion smarted into steel—and the American Democracy, not the club at Washington, but the people, the only Democratic party, we will stoop to recognise—have for years been worshipping that senseless mask located on the shoulders of a British body, as a great American Democratic statesman! and the same may be seen at any time at our office.

We are strongly reminded by the foregoing of the fact that the Review sometime since contained a portrait and Biographical sketch of a former member of Congress from Maine, who was set down in the book as "ex-Governor of Maine," although he never held that office, but only aspired to it.

We should like for some one who is competent to the task, to tell us whether the Review, in what it says regarding Judge Douglass, is in earnest or only funning him. It looks marvellously like getting him out of the Senate, at any rate; but whether that is means or only an end, it is really difficult for us to determine.

The following is what it says of Judge Douglass:

Who his father was we never asked. All we know about him, in point of fact, is, that he is a good Democrat, and a very queer sort of a good head individual, in his own person, without a grandfather, yet learned, wise, practical—and if he had only confidence in Young America and its destiny, and courage to grasp the helm, and not shy away mowing himself, up in Washington circles, palsied by fogyism, but resign his seat in the Senate, leave that foggy atmosphere which doth make cowards of us all, and get out among the people, put on a clean shirt every day, patronize his barber, and abjuring the short-sighted policy of questioning the Democratic Review about anything it does, and go ahead with a will, he would make a most excellent and truly Democratic candidate. Who his family may have been we cannot inform points circled at the public. He is simply Judge Douglass, of Illinois, carpenter and Senator, and his friends are naturally anxious he should now renew his former trade of cabinet-making. Who has either may have need, nobody knows; probably he is the same as a gun or an axe or a plane, or a rasslet, for he shaves opinions, cuts deep, and strikes hard. What gymnastic performance he may have exhibited in his nurse's arms we cannot inform the public. Probably he was whittled on a chisel. The possibility of this fact fully accounts for his having cut his teeth so early. He sawed up his genealogical tree long ago, and has nothing but himself left to put in the Presidential chair. He was turned out on the lathe in pepper Democracy and finally, after much traction, graduated on the bench first carpet-tack, then judicial, and now is living some jobbing to do, he presents himself, not with an old platform, but with the materials, and the mind, and the energy to shape fashion, and make enduring a platform of his own design, very Democratic, very Young American, and very go-ahead! And so, leaving his stand as a carpenter, we would prefer, were it best, to play forgery, even in this style, to ride without a grandfather, than to pull and blow, and shave, as old fogydom requires.

The Circulio—

It is a comfort to hear of any plan for destroying the Curculio, and it would be a real blessing to find a complete remedy for their depredations. A correspondent of the Boston Journal says, take cotton batting, put three circles 1 to 12 inches apart around your plum trees. His caught life in the first circle was 1 bbug; in the second circle he had been caught; in the third circle, several; one got so high. He found, that a years ago, and got lots of fine, plums last year. His trees are three years old. Mr Arthur Logan, the grafter from whom I obtained the scions which gave me the original tree, informed me that he had practiced the same method for many years, and had never been troubled with the curculio. Mr. Logan's trees are now very large, and bear abundantly. Mr. Logan's method is to place around the trunk of the tree, a few inches from the ground, a circle of cotton batting, about two inches wide, and to renew it every week during the season. The insect, in attempting to ascend the tree, is caught in the cotton, and perishes there. Mr. Logan has practiced this method for many years, and has never failed of success.

The Bangor Log Hut.

A telegraphic despatch, was received here yesterday morning, announcing the fact that the House had rejected the Bangor Log Hut Bill by a vote of 59 to 10, thus putting Bangor under a log-house guardianship, which was not thought of in reference to Augusta, Hallowell, Gardiner, Richmond, Bath, Portland, Lee, and Limbo—the rivalries and the business prospects of Bangor in a manner not strength with the other cities and towns named. We have yet to see what to-day the House will take.

☞ The Cincinnati, recently, after an address to young men by Rev. Mr. Herrick, a popular preacher of the large and fashionable congregation of a Scotch Presbyterian Institution, was formed, the Catholic spirit of which will delight every lover of mischief, wherever due attention to church matters he may be found. Nearly one hundred young men, joined on Sunday evening, and a fund of between $70 and $80 was raised on the spot for the purchase of a library. The Gazette says that the movement did not have its birth in a desire to propagate only those truths which may be found within Presbyterian confines. Any earnest and well-written religious books may form a part of the Society's library, and that the first step for discussion will be taken.

☞ The Journal this week opens to view that it has written the history of the Congressional Senators, and expresses an ambition that any democrat from Maine should have voted for the approval. Mr. Jeff. Sawtelle is the master twister in political history, and applies his magic as will suit the case or reason. The next thing of the Local National Convention will soon take place, and then we shall see how the calumet and spear of uniform of the Jeffersonian will commence the action of the Convention.

☞ Mr. Mann's American Almanac is now issued for 1852. It shows instead of 1 Knox-ham, who was formerly published, Abraham Sanborn, Esq., of this city, now representing the city in the South Legislature, as the free soil democratic candidate of the Whigs for Governor of the State, and declares that he would be certain of an election if nominated.

☞ The New York Tribune, one of the most extensively circulated and influential papers in this country, and altogether the most profitable to advertise in, has commenced its new Nonpareil type, and a new power press capable of working 18,000 sheets an hour.

☞ The Boston Transcript has recently appeared in a new and beautiful dress, from type of foreign cast. The Transcript is one of the most valuable in the country, and is interesting and instructive.

☞ The Boston Telegraph & News office was burned on the night of the 7th inst. Loss $10,000; insured for $5,000.

☞ The Augusta Age says that by the recent fall of two vessels from the piers of that city, fourteen persons were killed, nine widows and thirty fatherless children have been left—most, if not all of them in destitute circumstances.

☞ A new Catholic church is to be built in the city of Salisbury, and the present one is to be removed to the house erected for the Rev. Mr. Lord.

☞ Let no one omit to grab the plums when in reach, which will be any time before the frost and snow leave them.

PATTERSON, April 13.

The Democrats of Columbia, N. J., have nominated Mr. Buchanan for the Presidency. The Democrats of Morgan County, Ga., refuse to send delegates to either the Baltimore or Philadelphia Convention.

WASHINGTON, April 13.

Kossuth, his suite arrived here this P. M. and are staying at the National Hotel.

EDITORIAL OPINIONS.—The Boston Courier, in reference to Senator Jarnes's tariff proposition, resulting the duties on railroad iron 3 cents, says our legislators that selected it certainly had the only interest object in the world in view and the superiority of the iron manufacture. It requires them to look also at the agricultural interest, and remark how it has suffered under the operation of the present tariff. The subjoined table shows the decline in the exportation of breadstuffs since the tariff went into effect:

1846-47		$27,600,000
1847-48		9,000,000
1848-49		25,700,000
1849-50		32,500,000
1850-51		8,700,000

It is quite unavailing, says the Courier, for the advocates of Free Trade, any longer to call in question the fact that the tariff of 1846 has completely falsified the predictions of its authors. Time has assured us that it was made for the benefit of the American farmer. Its practical operation has been for the benefit of foreign farmers. We may import foreign manufactures, foreign luxuries, and foreign superfluities as much as we please, but Europe will take nothing but our hard cash for them, except a scattered importation. Farmine having reduced Spain and Ireland to the verge of starvation, and the potato rot and short crop of corn more especially to Great Britain their gold and silver flow again into the Bank of England, encouraged by an Anti-American tariff in America, will break down the manufacturing enterprise of our country, and drain it of the specie which constitutes the basis of its monetary system.

The World Narrow.

The world is narrow said the dewdrops fair,
They are seeing their woof in the book day's glare.
They are growing short said the ice in a trice,
They are growing small in the sunbeam's rays.
What shall the harvest be?

The world is narrow said the pleasant thought,
In this fleeting moment it may have birthday or death.
The world is narrow said the heart's deep core,
Where pleasure and pain can live side by side.
What shall the harvest be?

The world is narrow said the spirit of man,
Its life is a dream, a gust, they have blighted its hopes.
The world is narrow said the soul, and sad,
Within the mourning cypress leaves its dwelling.
What shall the harvest be?

The world is narrow said the heart of sorrow and dread,
Of life's fearful conflict, and the deadly cost.
The world is narrow said the spirit of love,
Where pearls the harvest be.

California News.

We gather the following items of interest, brought by the El Dorado, whose arrival at New York we have previously announced by telegraph.

The mails of the steamer California were twenty hours behind the special messengers. The El Dorado was detained this length of time awaiting their arrival. She after all came away without them, as the mail agent refused to put them on board, stating his orders were to send them via Panama. They will probably come in the Georgia.

A tremendous flood had occurred in California, overflowing Sacramento, Marysville, and Nevada.

Several persons were reported to have been lost by the late floods.

The El Dorado received and discharged her passengers direct from the wharf, to the great astonishment of the inhabitants of California, caused by the late rains.

The most important intelligence by this arrival is the great interest in the interior of California, caused by the late rains. The loss of property however is not so great as it was on the former occasion last year. Sacramento was overflowed in consequence of the crevasse on the levee, as was also Marysville. In the former city, comparatively little damage was done, for the reason that the inhabitants were prepared for an inundation, and as the waters rose and gained upon them, they removed their property to more elevated positions. They therefore suffered much less inconvenience than on the former occasion. Marysville, on the other hand, suffered a great deal, and has been estimated at $500,000. The greatest loss is sustained by the farmers on the low lands round the numerous bridges leading to the town. The crops are not so much injured as it was feared they would be.

Yuba river rose and all damage by the flood. At Nevada the public buildings, banks, hotels, theatres, and in fact, the whole town, has been washed away, many other towns have been washed down, and considerable damage sustained by the miners.

The Bridges at Coloma and Salmon Falls have been carried away, and it is said that every village on the South and Middle Forks of the American River have shared the same fate. The country between Sacramento and Nevada is utterly inundated.

Thousands continue to yield well, the drought having at an end, and the gushes and rainstorms of the week being filled with water.

The miners are busily engaged washing their dirt, as fast as they can dig it, and from what they have extracted since the rain, good, for what of rain, they are in the best spirits, and their returns thus far are very flattering. It is confidently expected by many persons, who have given attention to the matter, that the yield of gold this season will be that of any former year. A great number of persons have been at work and a large quantity of earth has been dug, that was covered up.

Grave complaints continue to be made of the additional murders have been committed by the Indians in the interior, some of whom were arrested, tried, the convicted, according to the Lynch code of proceeding.

The weather at last accounts in San Francisco was delightful, equal to Spring time.

Explorations were being formed for the gold mines of Queen Charlotte's Island. Three feet of snow was on, will be required to reach the mines from the mainland or the Indians upon what the land is.

The San Juan Republican says the miners were never so well employed. So full of work is the whole country, that it is impossible to get hands at less than $3 per day.

The U. S. steamer Fair Morse left for the purpose of taking home the wrecked Japanese who were rescued about a year since.

The North American's pass agent, Mr. Asapulco, are expected on a visit to the coast.

Dr. Cary from the committee on State Lands and State Roads, to which was referred so much of the Governor's message as relates to the subject, reported a resolve for opening a road from Fort Kent to the boundary line, which was read once and to-morrow assigned.

Passed to be enacted—Bill additional to act to increase the capital stock of the Calais Bank. Adj.

In the House—Mr. Sanborn of Bangor, from the Committee on the Judiciary, reported a new draft of a bill for the relief of Insolvent Debtors, which was ordered to be printed.

Resolve in favor of the Insane Hospital (appropriating $80,000 for the completion of the same) was taken up and passed to be engrossed—yeas 71, nays 38.

Mr. Hanscom then moved to reconsider the vote accepting the report of the committee on Insane Hospital declaring legislation inexpedient on the subject of government of the Insane Hospital. The House refused to reconsider, 37 to 36.

Petition of W. H. McCrillis for increase of the salary of Judge of the Probate Court in Bangor, was presented and referred to the delegation from Penobscot county.

The bill to establish a free bridge at Augusta was returned from the Senate postponed indefinitely. It was laid on the table.

Passed finally—An act to incorporate the town of Holden—an act relating to days of grace in town telling duty on Christmas day—an act to incorporate the Rockland Plank Road Company—an act additional to the duties of Register of Deeds—Resolves in favor of plantations No. 21 and 22, in the county of Hancock—an act authorizing the extension of a wharf in the town of Lubec—resolve amending the valuation of the town of Belfast—bill to amend the act to increase the capital stock of the Calais Bank, approved April 9, 1852. Adj.

☞ The Halifax British Colonist says it is rumored at Head Quarters on the St. John, that Sir Edmund Head, the popular Governor of New Brunswick, will shortly assume the reins of power in Nova Scotia.

☞ The Board of Education will hold an adjourned meeting in Augusta on the 27th inst.

Mrs. Madison.

Mrs. Madison, nee Dolly Payne, was the eldest daughter of John Payne, a native of Virginia, but a descendant of Quakers of Hanover county, Va. She was born May 20, 1767. Much of the period of her childhood was spent with her grandparents in Brentwood, a part of Exeter, N. H. In early life she manifested a great appreciation of beauty, and was fond of dress, which, employed her mind, while she was a little grammarian, and even while engaged in making her doll gown, she would listen to it with a book in her hand. After childhood she received her education at a school kept by Quakers, as until the age of fifteen, when she left home to visit her sister, Mrs. Madison, at Philadelphia. Here she was introduced into the seminaries of study, and took a highly respectable rank in the school taught by Mr. Bacon. Whether mind was of a high order, well disciplined, substantial and electrifying, making not for blossoming and the shadows, but for the fruits of life, we suppose would have been evinced by herself by a half hour's conversation with her. Immediately after leaving school, she became a teacher. She first taught in Williamstown, Mass., afterwards in Hartford, Vt., where she had the entire training of her youngest sister, Elizabeth, afterwards Mrs. Hamlin, wife of Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, Missionary at Bebek, Western Asia. Mrs. H. always commended him who especially admired her sister's unyielding hand for the formation of her mental habits, and for qualifications, for usefulness. Though the mind was seasoned by a discriminating hand, it was also fed by the sweet word of Jesus, uttering in words of perfect wisdom the presentiment of her soul. "I shall soon meet Margaret." Soon realized, they have met.

Mrs. Hamlin became, as she herself says, the subject of a most saving grace in early life. "The records of that experience I have not seen. But the fruits, have they not been abundantly manifested? Even before this, her friends marked as a conspicuous trait in her character, strict conscientiousness, great sympathy, deep operation. A kindness of disposition was another leading trait—quick sympathy with suffering, and a strong desire to relieve it. At first she acted simply as the bearer of her mother's alms to the needy. Soon her heart grew so interested from this cause, that she would go, and spend hours in the humble dwellings of want and distress, that she might have the pleasure of being the messenger or agent of relief to them also. This continued to be done, till the phrase, 'The visiter of Sister Jackson,' became a received phrase in that neighborhood.

But these were not holiness; these did not make her feel, that all was right with her relations to God. These do not keep from her conscience and her heart, the piercing truth, 'I must be born again.' All this was right, perfectly, according to God's standard, she ever manifested to that searching charge and grace, all of grace.

She became the wife of the Rev. John Maltby, May 10, 1827. He generated father in taking the leave of her and passing him over to those who would be kind to her. Margaret, I want you to remember, this dealing—all you can get of grace is vouchsafed." Her heart and life were responsive to his sentiments. She lived for others. In this sense

THE ROAD TO HEALTH!

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.

CURE OF A DISORDERED LIVER AND BAD DIGESTION.

Copy of a Letter from Mr. R. W. Kirkus, Chemist, 7, Prescot Street, Liverpool, dated 6th June, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—Your Pills and Ointment have stood the highest on our sale list of Proprietary Medicines for some years. A customer, to whom I can refer for any enquiries, desires me to let you know the particulars of her case. She had been troubled for years with a disordered liver, and bad digestion. On the last occasion, however, the virulence of the attack was so alarming, and the inflammation set in so severely, that doubts were entertained of her not being able to bear up under it; fortunately she was induced to try your Pills, and she informs me that after the first, and each succeeding dose, she had great relief. She continued to take them and although used only three Boxes, she is now in the enjoyment of perfect health. I could have sent you many more cases, but the above, from the severity of the attack, and the speedy cure, I think, speaks much in favor of your astonishing Pills.

(Signed) R. W. KIRKUS.

AN EXTRAORDINARY CURE OF RHEUMATIC FEVER IN VAN DIEMEN'S LAND.

Copy of a Letter inserted in the Hobart Town Courier, of the 1st March, 1851, by Major J. Walch.

Margaret M'Connigan, nineteen years of age, residing at New Town, had been suffering from a violent rheumatic fever for upwards of two months, which had entirely deprived her of the use of her limbs; during this period she was under the care of the most eminent medical men in Hobart Town, and by them her case was considered hopeless. A friend prevailed upon her to try Holloway's celebrated Pills, which she consented to do, and in an incredible short space of time they effected a perfect cure.

CURE OF A PAIN AND TIGHTNESS IN THE CHEST AND STOMACH OF A PERSON 84 YEARS OF AGE.

From Messrs. Thew & Son, Proprietors of the Lynn Advertiser, who can vouch for the following statement.—August 2d, 1851.

To Professor Holloway,

SIR,—I desire to bear testimony to the good effects of Holloway's Pills. For some years I suffered severely from a pain and tightness in the stomach, which was also accompanied by a shortness of breath, that prevented me from walking about. I am 84 years of age, and notwithstanding my advanced state of life, these Pills have so relieved me, that I am desirous that others should be made acquainted with their virtues. I am now rendered, by their means, comparatively active, and can take exercise without inconvenience or pain, which I could not do before.

(Signed) HENRY COE, North street, Lynn, Norfolk.

These celebrated Pills are wonderfully efficacious in the following complaints:

Great American Remedy.
FOR COLDS, COUGHS, ASTHMA, CROUP AND CONSUMPTION.

WHY, invalids, do you almost invariably overlook the very best remedy for your complaint, in search of something with a foreign or mysterious, or crackjaw name? Half of them are made by quacks, or persons having not a tithe of the scientific and practical knowledge, either of medicine, or of the human system, of the author of the above medicine. For dry, hard coughs and for children, with severe stated colds, or with croup, it is invaluable, and I court a trial of effects with any Ind an, Egyptian, Arabian, English, French, German or any other foreign, domestic preparation, which is now offered to the public for sale, for all the cases in which it is recommended. It was used by Dr. Morly Hardy, (inventor) for many years with great success—More than twenty thousand have tried it, and all commend it. Why look farther?

A Certificate.

BANGOR, June 8, 1850.
THIS certifies that I have been occasionally afflicted with sore and inflamed eyes and having used several kinds of Eye Water, without any beneficial effects, was induced to try a bottle of MANN'S EYE WATER, which entirely cured them, and also cured several other persons; this was about a year ago. Last fall I procured another bottle, and carried it into the woods with a crew of lumbermen. Four or five of the men in the winter were troubled with sore Eyes. All were cured that used it, and I could advise every person who may be going into the woods, or River-Driving, to carry this article with them. I will refer to Mr. WARREN BROWN of Bangor, and the men in his employ. This certificate is entirely voluntary, and I give it for the use of the afflicted.

Another Scientific Wonder!
DR. J. S. HOUGHTON'S
Great Dyspepsia Curer!

THE TRUE
DIGESTIVE FLUID, OR
Gastric Juice,

PREPARED from RENNET, or the fourth STOMACH OF THE OX, after directions of BARON LIEBIG, the great Physiological Chemist, by J. S. HOUGHTON, M. D. Philadelphia, Pa.
This is a Great Natural Remedy for Indigestion and Dyspepsia, curing after Nature's own Method, by Nature's own Agent, the Gastric Juice. PEPSIN is the chief element or Great Digesting Principle of the Gastric Juice—the Solvent of the Food, the Purifying, Preserving, and Stimulating Agent of the Stomach and Intestines. It is extracted from the Digestive Stomach of the Ox, ... forming an Artificial Digestive Fluid, precisely like the natural Gastric Juice ... Chemical powers ...
... Dyspepsia are removed just as they would be by a healthy Stomach ...
Baron Liebig in his celebrated work on Animal Chemistry, says: "An Artificial Digestive Fluid, analogous to the Gastric Juice, may be prepared from the mucous membrane of the stomach of the Ox, ..."
Half a teaspoonful of Pepsin infused in water will digest or dissolve five Pounds of Roast Beef in about two hours out of the stomach.

BEAUTY.
Complexion richly tinted with the bloom of health,
With skin as pure and fair as parian marble—
Soft and sweet as the fragrant rose—
Teeth as sound and white as alabaster,
Breath of sweetest fragrance, and lips of coral tint,
With flowing ringlets and glossy locks,
Luxuriant tresses dancing gracefully o'er the swan-like neck,
No dark repulsive spots to mar the pleasing picture,
Or to cast dull shadows o'er beauty's ... piece.

RADWAY'S MEDICATED SOAP,
Composed of the most delicious, rare and fragrant gums, Of extracts, oils, and costly essences—
Of flowers, roots, herbs, and oriental plants,
Possessing wondrous, wonderful skin ...
TO THE COMPLEXION IT IMPARTS BEAUTY.
By cleansing the skin from all eruptive matter,
Makes clean the pores, gives action to the capillaries,
By which all poisonous humors are ejected,—
And a ... to the skin restored.
To the teeth it gives whiteness and prevents decay.
It makes the skin soft, sweet and smooth,
Transforms the most repulsive and disfigured visage
To a clear and beautiful complexion.

RADWAY'S CIRCASSIAN BALM
Imparts ... to the hair,—
Makes it strong, glossy, rich and luxuriant,
Cleanses the scalp from dandruff,—gives action to the bulbs,
Fastens the hair upon the scalp, and forces it to grow—
